

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

VOL. XXII.

ATLANTA, GA., SATURDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 4, 1890.

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

CRISP'S CHANCES

FOR THE SENATORSHIP AND THE SPEAKERSHIP.

HE IS NEEDED IN THE HOUSE.

And He Is Equally Needed to Improve the Standing of the Democratic Side of the Senate, Etc., Etc.

WASHINGTON, October 3.—[Special.]—The suggestion mentioned in those dispatches last night, made by a Georgia congressman, that Judge Crisp become a candidate for the senate, has created considerable discussion here.

It has been discussed today by the few remaining members, the politicians and all the newspaper representatives, and the almost unanimous verdict is that the democratic party could not afford to lose the services of the distinguished Georgian in the house. He has proven himself a leader with whom even Tom Reed does not care to cross swords, and he will be needed to preside over the next democratic house, or lead the minority, should the next house be republican. A well-known New Yorker said this evening that the democratic party in the house was not so strong that it could afford to lose a single prominent member, and he hoped for the good of the party that Judge Crisp would content himself with retaining his seat in the next house, and becoming the speaker of that body during the next congress.

On the other hand, Judge Crisp's Georgia friends say the democratic side of the senate is more in need of strong men than the democratic side of the house, and now that the state has the opportunity to honor him it should be done.

The Star this afternoon has a long story about the Georgia situation, in which is the following:

"Mr. Crisp took issue with the alliance on the subtreasury bill, but argued the matter with them in such a friendly and amiable spirit that he provoked no enmity. If Mr. Crisp should be sent to the senate it would deprive the democrats in the house of their most promising leader, and the man who would otherwise be pretty certain of the speakership should the democrats have the next house."

BEED AND THE OGRE.

Speaker Reed left for Maine last night.

To say that the big tyrant and little Benny Harrison are at odds is expressing it mildly. Reed absolutely uses language more forcible than elegant when the president's name is mentioned. His favorite characterization of the occupant of the white house is: "That d—nish ingrate." Reed has, undoubtedly, relieved Harrison of many embarrassments in return for which he has absolutely snubbed the speaker, and made all his appointments in Maine to suit Mr. Blaine and the senators.

The appointment of Dow as collector at Portland, Reed's own home, was the last thread to be cut, and now the breach is wide open. Reed was bitterly opposed to Dow, while Blaine and the senators favored him. Harrison ignored Reed and recognized his enemies. An indignant friend of Mr. Reed's said tonight:

"The speaker has made many sacrifices for Harrison, but it is war between them now, and Reed will be the victor. Why, Mr. Reed saved the president on the silver question. The western republicans seemed determined to pass a free coinage bill. Harrison stated bluntly if such a bill passed he would veto it. A veto of this kind would have ruined him. He knew it, and appealed to Reed to save the administration and prevent a disruption of the party in the northwest. Reed did it as no other man could have done, after the passage of a free coinage bill through the senate, and in the face of a free coinage majority in the house. From this and many other embarrassments Mr. Reed has saved the president. Yet his reward has been the ignoring of every request he has made of the president. Harrison is without sense of gratitude or justice, and if the speaker can prevent it, there will be no second term for the present occupant of the white house. Mr. Reed will also lay for him during the short session. Harrison will get no aid of Reed in any of his embarrassments."

THE OUTLOOK IN THE SOUTH.

Hundreds of letters from all over the south, that have been received at the democratic congressional head-quarters during the past week, are to the same effect. All say that the attempt to pass the force bill by the republican congress has solidified the white people of the south, and at the November election almost every white voter in the south will go to the polls and be recorded. Letters from the southern districts now represented by republicans are particularly encouraging, and Chairman Flower has figured it out, that instead of twenty-three southern republicans, as there are in the present house, there will not be exceeding ten in the next. This would mean a certain democratic majority.

ON THE WAY HOME.

INSTRUCTIONS TO POSTMASTERS

For Carrying Out the Anti-Lottery Law.

Matter That Is Unfinished. Assistant Attorney General T. R. under direction of Postmaster General Wanamaker, has prepared a circular letter to postmasters, containing instructions for their guidance in carrying out the anti-lottery law. The instructions state that the law applies to lottery, ordinary or registered, if it concerns any lottery, or to lottery tickets, cheques, draws, money, postal notes or money orders for the purpose of lotteries or gift enterprises, and to the lists of drawings of all lotteries, or similar schemes, and for bids, carried in the mails or delivered them from the postoffices. The seal of a letter, or any sealed packet prepared for lottery must be destroyed before the postmaster, or if it is retained at the postoffice, is forbidden by the provisions of this act. Nor will the mere fact that a lottery is conducted under the name of a lottery, or the fact that it is addressed to any person known to be engaged in the business of conducting a lottery, justify its detention or destruction. The law provides that delivery of registered letters at the office or destination shall be withheld when the postmaster has issued specific orders to that effect.

Postal cards and unsealed matter may be inspected, when suspected of being prohibited mail, and naval officers over the order require the postmaster to command Reiter from the command of the Ranger, which has been cruising along the west coast of Central America since the Guatemala-Veracruz expedition. Reiter is general among his brother officers here that Reiter is recalled because the secretary of state is dissatisfied with his conduct. The postmaster is directed to forward to the postmaster of San Salvador, and also in regard to the Barrundia affair. The Ranger was in the harbor of San Jose when Barrundia was killed on the Acapulco.

THE CENTRAL CITY.

The Sidney Lanier Unveiling—Major Bacon's Return Home—A Bad Negro Killed—Personal and General Items.

MACON, Ga., October 3.—[Special.]—Judge A. L. Miller will be a candidate before the legislature for re-election to the superior court bench of the Macon circuit. He deserves re-election. He has made a decided record, and given perfect satisfaction to the entire bar and the whole people. He ably and promptly dispatches business. He is highly esteemed by all.

It was rumored at one time that Judge Charles J. Harris would be a candidate for Judge Miller's place, but it is generally believed now that Governor Nathan N. Morris has appointed him as judge of the city court, a position to which he was appointed by Governor Gordon during his first term. Judge Garrison will be a candidate for the state senate. The result of this contest will be awaited with interest.

THE UNVEILING

MACON, October 3.—[Special.]—On September 15th the marble bust of the lamented poet, Sidney Lanier, was unveiled with appropriate ceremonies in the public library. The presentation speech will be made by Walter E. Hill, Esq.

Death of Jim Campbell.

MACON, Ga., October 3.—[Special.]—The people of Macon will be surprised to hear of the death of Mr. Jim Campbell, the foreman of the dye house of the East Macon cotton mill. He died this afternoon of heart disease, at his residence in East Macon. He leaves relatives and many friends to mourn his loss.

Major Bacon Returns Home.

MACON, Ga., October 3.—[Special.]—Major A. O. Bacon returned home this morning from a trip to Mexico, where he went several weeks ago as the guest of President W. G. Raoul and Superintendent of the Macon and Western Railway Company. Major Bacon is looking exceedingly well, and he says he had a delightful time. He visited the City of Mexico, and many other points of interest. He thinks Mexico is a wonderful country.

A Death.

MACON, Ga., October 3.—[Special.]—Mr. W. C. Conners, of Kansas City, died this morning, of fever, at 7:45 o'clock, at the Brown house, after a short illness. His death date is not known. He probably will be shipped west for interment. He was the secretary and treasurer of McTeig & Co., the large railroad contractors, who have an office in this city. The deceased was a very able gentleman and fine business man.

Killed in a Bad Note.

MACON, Ga., October 3.—[Special.]—Deputy Sheriff Whitley, of Montgomery, is in the city today for the purpose of carrying back to Montgomery the negro, Wash Cannon, who was arrested at Macon yesterday. Cannon, a negro named William Bird. Officer Whitley says Bird was a mean and notorious negro, and the people are glad to see him dead.

A Curiosity.

MACON, Ga., October 3.—[Special.]—Professor J. C. Hinton, of Atlanta, is to return to Baltimore to attend the Johns Hopkins university. He declined several favorable offers made him by schools and colleges, because he wishes to devote his time to the study of mathematics. He was formerly a teacher at the college at Milledgeville, but resigned to resume his studies in the above named institution.

The Race Track.

MACON, Ga., October 3.—[Special.]—The race track at Central City park is being put in splendid condition by Captain Jim Simpson and a squad of men. The track is to be open to the public on Saturday, October 12th, and the races will be held to occur during the state fair. The track is the finest in the southern states, and the races will be numerous and excellent.

Sheriff Clements.

MACON, Ga., October 3.—[Special.]—Mr. E. W. Clements, the very efficient and popular sheriff of the county, is in town today. Sheriff Clements is a candidate for appointment by the governors as assistant keeper of the penitentiary. He has been sheriff quite awhile, and if appointed assistant keeper of the penitentiary, would do no doubt make a most excellent officer.

Gossip.

MACON, Ga., October 3.—[Special.]—Colonel Lee Jordan, who will soon claim Atlanta as a home, is in Macon today. Dr. Charles Hall and Mrs. Hugo Taylor were to meet him here. Miss Maude Campbell is attending the Eatonton fair. Mr. J. O. Wynn of Atlanta, a well-known life insurance gentleman, is in the city. Mr. Paul T. Hill is attending the Eatonton fair. The reception given tonight by Mr. and Mrs. Tom W. Troy in their residence on Georgia avenue, confirmed. Misses Tinsley and Mrs. Tinsley was a most brilliant and delightful affair. Mrs. J. F. Means, of East Macon, is critically ill. Her life is despaired of.

THE CORPS OFFICERS

Newly Appointed for the State University Corps.

ATHENS, Ga., October 3.—[Special.]—Much interest has for a long time been felt by the college boys for the coming appointment of cadet officers for the corps of engineers. In a few days, the fears of the many, were realized. At 4:30 P.M. this afternoon Colonel C. M. Snelling, the commanding of the University Corps, called Adjutant A. C. Newell; sergeant-major, E. R. Hodges; Jr. Company A-Captain, P. D. Youngblood; lieutenants, Frank Harvey, Paul King, O. H. Sheppard, W. W. Williams, W. E. L. Smith, W. L. Sibley, W. L. Kelley; corporals, M. A. Lewis, A. O. Hulsey, Y. O. W. Calhoun, Dorsey, Company B-Captain, Marion Hunt, Headenworth, Brown, Lanier, Calhoun, second Lieutenants, Blanton, Hodges, T. H. Lewis, J. F. Frey; corporals, Harry Hoggson, Halsey, Geochinck, Dodd. The appointments are made and satisfactory to the students. Atlanta is also represented in the appointments, the first captain being Dudley Young. Dr. Frank Harrison, who is universally conceded to be the best drilled in the university. Eugene R. Black was appointed secretary to the commandant.

THE NEGRO WILL DIE.

Frank Harrison Wins a Bullet Through Peter Curtwright.

LAGRANGE, Ga., October 3.—[Special.]—On Saturday morning last, negroes, Frank Harrison and Peter Curtwright, became a distinct party in a district. During the night, Harrison drew a pistol and shot Curtwright through the lung, inflicting a mortal wound. Harrison, however, was immediately led to Alabama with a party of enraged negroes, and he, who soon captured him and brought him to Sheriff Henderson, who landed him in jail, did not think that the negro, Peter Curtwright, will die.

Burial of Dr. Johnson.

CHAMPAIGN, Ga., October 3.—[Special.]—The remains of Dr. J. Thad Johnson, who died at Macon, Wednesday, were laid to rest in the Griffin Cemetery this morning. A large crowd attended the services, testifying the esteem in which he is held. Dr. Johnson's wife is a daughter of the late Dr. J. T. Baker, one of the most noted physicians in the state. Dr. Johnson himself was a physician of ability and merit.

HENRY W. GRADY,

BY OLIVER DYER,

Author of "Great Senators,"

Begins in the New York Ledger, issued Oct. 4th, and on the front page is a life-like likeness of Mr. Grady. This is the most accurate presentation of Mr. Grady's character that has been written, and it should be read by every patriot in the country, both North and South. "Reunited," a war story, by a popular Southern author, is begun in the same number, and there are contributions from Amelia Barr, James Parton, Maurice Thompson, Jennie Kate Ludlam, Helen Marshall North, Thomas Dunn English, besides interesting miscellaneous reading matter. The Ledger is beautifully illustrated.

THE POLITICAL DRIFT.

A PROPOSED JEFFERSONIAN MOVE-
MEN IN THE FIFTH.

Which Originates in Douglas County—The

DOUGLASSVILLE, Ga., October 3.—[Special.]—Much interest has been created by the appearance of the following call in The New South: "There will be a meeting of the Jeffersonian Democrats at the courthouse in Douglas on Saturday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, for the purpose of consulting together, as to the advisability of calling a convention of the Jeffersonian Democrats to nominate a candidate for the fifth congressional district. All friends of this movement, please come out." W. V. BOATWRIGHT, W. H. T. TERRY, W. A. JAMES, and Many Others.

The defeat of the alliance candidate for the legislature in this county, and the close fight which Terrell made on Snelson, has emboldened those who do not want "dark-lantern" nominations to come out and demand a democratic standard bearer for the fifth district. They claim that Livingston's first allegiance is due the alliance, instead of the democratic party. Letters are said to have been received from many parts of the district encouraging the movement and promising to respond to the call of Douglas.

WINN MEN ORGANIZING.

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ga., October 3.—[Special.]—A large club was organized here with N. B. Bates as chairman, and D. T. Cain, clerk of the court, as secretary. The list has on it already over one hundred names. This is the first militia district, and within a few days Winn men will be at work in every portion of the county. The alliance is solid for him, and the missionary group lies only with those out of the alliance, who are not Pickett men, but who are disposed to fall in with the November election. The alliance of a few weeks back, between the alliance and non-alliance men, are rapidly passing away, and within a short while "peace will reign in Warsaw."

CORPUT WILL CONTEST.

The Floyd County Result to Come up for Trial.

ROME, Ga., October 3.—[Special.]—The legislative battle is not over, so it seems. It takes another turn. It is reported that counsel will be employed by the contestants.

"Each house shall be the judge of its members," says the constitution of Georgia, section 90. The contest therefore will be tried by the house of representatives, and remove the battle field from Floyd county.

A SUBALIANCE PROTEST.

A leading topic of discussion yesterday was the unusual situation, and perhaps no one feature attracted more discussion than the action taken by the DeKalb County Alliance.

The resolution passed at that meeting, and first printed in yesterday's Constitution, is given below to explain the significance of a resolution passed yesterday by the Edgewood subassembly.

By Steamer, Train or Boat?

Which of these have you selected as a means of travel? No matter. Whichever it is, recollect that sea-sickness, disorders of the stomach live to be engendered by rough locomotion and land or water travel. The Vestster's Stomach Bitter is the most useful specific you can take with you. It is invaluable also for rheumatism, kidney complaint and nervous trouble.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children teething, greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay all pain and spasmodic action. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

ABOUT THE CAPITOL.

Captain Blount, at the capitol, knows Lecturer Crawford, the negro representative from McIntosh county, and gives quite an interesting account of him.

"Crawford," says he, "is a ginger-colored darky of only average intelligence and a slight education. He has been in the legislature before. "Crawford is now about forty years old. He is a son of Pierce Butler, the man who sold his estate to the estate of Butler. This was the principal property of Pierce Butler, one of the old plantation leaders, the husband of the famous actress, Pauline Kuhl.

"Crawford is not an incendiary or anything of that sort—just such a man, in fact, as Melvor, of Liberty, was in his last house. He is acceptable to the white race, as any negro that could be found in the country.

"He has been the negro leader in that county for a long time, and has been a factor in African politics in that congressional district, and a chronic delegator in all their conventions. His present position, I believe, is that of a Methodist preacher."

"He defeated Tyson, the representative of McIntosh in the last legislature. It was done by the combination of a county registration law passed in the last legislature, and introduced by Tyson himself."

In yesterday's Constitution it was stated that the alliance was the Savannah, Americus and Montgomery, for cutting rates, was based upon the complaint of the Central. This is incorrect. The alliance has been the cause of the discussion of a case against the Central. The commission then, of its own right, cited the Savannah, Americus and Montgomery to appear for the much worse condition, than before taking them.

ATLANTA, GA., OCTOBER 4, 1890.

A Man Who Means Business.

Governor Campbell, of Ohio, is a model democratic governor. He is a man who means business, and is no respecter of persons, where the interests of the people are concerned. A dishonest democrat and a dishonest republican are alike to him, and he does not condemn the one and show a partisan leaning to the other. He accepted the high office whose honors he wears so worthily as a sacred trust, and he holds every man who is in authority under him to a strict account of his stewardship.

There are, on the board of public improvements in Cincinnati, four democratic and one republican. Governor Campbell appointed them, and had faith in their integrity. But recently charges of corruption have been made against them, and the governor ordered an investigation. One of the members of this board, who is a democrat, hearing of these charges, sent the following dispatch to the governor:

The evening papers here publish what purports to be official news from you, in which you charge falsehoods in the board of public improvements. Do you charge me with any crookedness? Answer at once.

This was intended as a "feeler," but the democrat in question did not anticipate the scathing reply which the governor made, which was as follows:

Replying to your telegram, wherein you request me to tell you how far I charge you with what you term crookedness, I beg to say that I have not charged you with anything, but I believe you to be dishonest, and that opinion is concurred in by every citizen of Cincinnati whom I have seen or from whom I have heard within the last month.

Wherever I have official charges to make against you or the board of public improvements in the city of Cincinnati, I will select my own time and place, and my opportunity of presenting the same to the public. In the meantime, I demand your resignation from said board, to be placed in my hands before noon of Monday next.

Strictly business! With this Ohio governor there is no middle ground; a rogue is a rogue, and the democratic head falls beneath the same stroke that severs the republican. That is the kind of governor Ohio has needed all along; a man who knows no party where the welfare of the state is concerned—who is a slave to no one and nothing save duty.

Prohibition in Kansas.

They are having trouble in Kansas over the prohibition law. In Leavenworth county, writs were recently granted to the city marshal under the nuisance clause of the prohibitory law, empowering him to search all places where intoxicating liquors were sold and to seize the furniture and buildings.

It is said that the marshal is a strong prohibitionist. One night he started on his rounds, with a squad of police at his back, entered the house of one Billings, who had been selling liquor, took possession of it and seized that also, as town property and turned the proprietor out of doors.

In great straits, the man, thus suddenly bereft of his property, sought the county judge and begged him not to deprive his wife and children of a home. So the judge issued a restraining order for the present, as the man claiming the Kansas exemption on a homestead.

This is certainly a novel way to stop the liquor traffic. The people should respect the law and not lay themselves liable to its penalties. But that is a hard and most unfeeling law which empowers its officers to confiscate the property of offenders and turn weak women and helpless children out on the streets at will.

Quicker in Dry Counties.

The local option law being in effect in nearly a hundred counties in Georgia, has been the cause of introducing some queer and heretofore unheard-of drinks. This is not the fault of the law, for in most counties where prohibition exists the people appear to be pleased with the results and their votes tell in no uncertain terms whenever elections are held that they prefer their respective counties to remain dry.

It is said that the amount of cider sold in Georgia is simply immense, and the question often arises, where does the fruit come from to make the endless supply of peach, apple, grape and cranberry ciders that are gulped down in prohibition counties? The keep all bear the mark of Georgia manufacture and it makes no difference with the supply whether there is a failure in the fruit crop or not. The cider gets there just the same. To many, cider is but a tame beverage, but the old timer has discovered that the addition of two ounces of alcohol, procured from the drug stores, added to a glass of cider, makes a solid and substantial drink, which they term a "stone fence."

It would astonish any baker or confectioner in Atlanta to notice the immensity of the sales of extract of lemon in some localities. The extract most in demand is not of the purest character, but consists of two ounces of alcohol slightly flavored with lemon, put up in two-ounce vials. The man with a depraved taste who is willing to drink anything, just so it will intoxicate, takes a bottle of this extract and puts it in a glass of cider and drinks it. The effect is said to be exhilarating in the highest degree.

Moxie, known in Atlanta as a soothing nerve, is brought into use in a different way in some places. To each bottle of moxie two ounces of alcohol is added and a drink is produced that will paralyze the nerves. Jamaica ginger is also a standard.

favorite, but in some sections its use became so extensive that local laws were enacted prohibiting its sale. As a summer medicine, properly used, Jamaica ginger is a good thing to have about the house, but as a beverage it is more dangerous to the human system than any kind of whisky.

Ginger and cherry tonics are great favorites in some towns and the grocers find ready sale for them. In nearly every community some substitute for whisky can be found and, although it may be called tonic, extract, stimulator, nerve tonic or exhilarator, in every instance you will find that the potent factor in the drink which makes it sell, is alcohol of full proof and sufficient capacity to burn a hole in the plank.

Mr. Harrison's Congress.

The adjournment of congress is regarded as a very great event, and is so treated by even the republican papers. It seems to be the fact that in the consideration of this matter even the partisan organs are impelled to surrender their opinions and to agree that a very good thing has happened for the country.

We have never before had the opportunity of witnessing such a beautiful unanimity on the part of those who are supposed to represent public opinion. If there were any person to lead in the matter—any citizen, no matter how humble, to make a serious suggestion—we believe the affair would take the place of a jubilee.

Mr. Blaine started the frolly by denouncing in the plainest and most unmistakable manner the McKinley bill. Mr. Blaine is a pro-republican, of course, but the McKinley bill the flower and fruit of the republican protection idea, seemed to be something too much for his stomach. We have already alluded to the terms of his denunciation—to the arraignment of the principles of the bill and we need not do more than refer to the matter.

EXPOSITION DIRECTORS.

THEY HOLD A LIVE SESSION LAST NIGHT.

Arranging for the Opening Day—Mr. Blaine and Senator Daniels Will be Here—The Sham Battle.

The exposition office was filled with directors last night.

It was a rousing meeting, and was characterized from beginning to end with life and enthusiasm.

Every director present seemed to enter fully into the spirit of the meeting, and the session was one of business strictly.

Major John T. Glenn, who is chairman of the invitation committee, was present, having just returned from his trip through the north.

He reported, in behalf of the invitation committee, that he had called on Mr. Blaine to formally extend him the invitation of the express company to visit Atlanta and the expressman to stay at the Atlanta Hotel.

Major Glenn stated that he had a most encouraging interview with Mr. Blaine about coming to Atlanta.

"It is safe to say that he will come," said Mr. Glenn, "and I think he will come prepared to make a great speech. He said he was anxious to go to Atlanta, and would use every effort to do so."

Mr. Blaine will be among the prominent visitors to Atlanta during the alliance week. He has been invited to speak on one of the days of that week.

SENATOR DANIEL.

Senator Daniel of Virginia, will be at the exposition on veterans' day, and will make a speech on that day.

In the afternoon the sham battle will be given, and all in all, this will be one of the greatest days of the exposition.

A committee was appointed by the directors last night to make further arrangements for the sham battle.

Every resident of Atlanta will be requested to decorate their dwellings with bunting of red, white and blue, which are the colors of the exposition company.

The decorations all over the city should be placed on Monday, 13th of October, three days before the exposition opens.

DRUMMERS' DAY.

The president was instructed by the meeting to begin the day with a drum roll, and to be present for drummers and buglers.

President J. R. Wylie will confer with the drummers and buglers at once to perfect arrangements for the programme on that day.

Arrangements will also be made for a mechanics' day.

The day selected Colonel Calhoun and Colonel Thomas to assist the military committee in the arrangement of the sham battle, and instructed the president to make every preparation for the prize drills necessary to be made before the exposition opens.

A brilliant band will be prepared to give the signal of the 22d of October, commanding the visiting military companies, and no efforts will be spared to make it a grand success in every particular.

The entertainment will be given by the local military companies and citizens generally, and will be given in the name of Atlanta.

Every citizen will put himself in the success of this undertaking, and assist in making it the great affair that it ought to be.

PUBLIC COMFORT.

As the exposition draws nearer at hand, it behoves the citizens of Atlanta to take definite steps in preparing for the accommodation of the public.

The members of the committee on public comfort from the board of directors desire the co-operation of each and every citizen in this matter.

SHOT HIMSELF.

MR. GEORGE RAMSPECK, OF DECATUR, ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

While Cleaning a Revolver One Load Is Fired Into His Stomach—He Is Not Expected to Live—A Sad Affair.

George Ramspeck, Jr., the seventeen-year-old son of George Ramspeck, of Decatur, accidentally shot himself yesterday morning in his father's store.

It appears that shortly before noon, George was engaged in cleaning a revolver, which had been lying in the store for some time unused. He removed the cartridges, and after thoroughly cleaning and oiling the barrel, proceeded to reload with fresh cartridges. Just as he put in the fifth and last cartridge, the hammer, against which his thumb had been pressed, slipped, and the cartridge was exploded.

Mr. Weeks, who is employed in the store, and who was in another portion of the building, heard the report and ran in the direction of the sound. He found George leaning against the counter, his hands pressed tightly against his abdomen, and the revolver lying at his feet.

"What is the matter, George? Are you hurt?" was Mr. Weeks' first remark.

"I am killed!" George answered. "I have shot myself."

"Oh, no," said Mr. Weeks, "you are only scared." He endeavored to encourage George with the idea that it was only a scratch, and no blood could be found near the wound, which looked just like a red spot on the skin, it was at first thought the ball had glanced off. Mr. Weeks at once summoned Dr. Green, and had George carried to his home. The doctor, after a careful examination, found that the ball had entered the lower portion of the abdomen, on the right side, but could not trace its course. Dr. Cooper, of Atlanta, was summoned by telephone, and came out to Decatur. George was placed under the influence of an opiate, and the ball probed for, but without success. He rapidly grew weaker, and the doctors fear internal hemorrhage. It is believed that the ball took a downward course, and it is possible that no vital spot has been wounded. The doctors, however, feel anxious, and have but little hope for recovery.

George Ramspeck is one of Decatur's brightest boys, and the news of the sad accident caused great excitement and universal regret throughout the town. Many friends and neighbors tendered their services in any capacity, and all the afternoon the family residence was surrounded by groups of anxious friends, inquiring for the latest opinion of the doctors. At a late hour the patient was resting easily, and apparently suffering but little.

THE SCOTCH-IRISH.

The Committee on Membership Doing Good Work—The Convention.

The convention of the National Scotch-Irish Society of America will be held in Atlanta.

That, at least, seems to be certain so far as is known at present.

Mr. W. Hugh Hunter, the secretary of the Atlanta society of Scotch-Irishmen, has been corresponding with the secretary of the national society, and has formally invited the national association to meet in Atlanta for their next annual convention.

Mr. Hunter has received a letter from the secretary of the executive committee of the national association, acknowledging in a pleasing way the receipt of the invitation, and assuring him, with emphasis, of the probability of the committee adopting Atlanta as the place of meeting.

The committee to work up the membership of the society in Atlanta, consisting of Col. H. F. Starkey, Dr. G. M. Jones, Dr. L. C. Lovell, and T. H. P. Bloodworth, will continue to work up a large roll of members of the society in this city.

There are already about a 100 members and among them are some of Atlanta's finest and best families.

Long live the Scotch-Irishmen to keep green and growing the Shamrock and thistle.

THE GAMMON SCHOOL.

Gammon Theological Seminary began its eighth year of work yesterday with a large attendance of ministers and candidates for the ministry, gathered from various states and educational institutions from Texas to Ohio.

The outlook for the year is most hopeful and encouraging. The seminary has planned a broad and helpful course of study for the year, with some additional features adopted to keep abreast with the work of the best schools in the country.

President Thirkield has still charge of the summer in Atlanta, and has preached and lectured in several states. Professor Mayes has just returned from a tour of travel and has been lecturing in Dr. Parks has been in Illinois, and has done vigorous study in planning his work on systematic theology. Professor Craven has taken special work in Dr. D. J. Jones of the Louisville Theological Seminary, and has been associated with Dr. Herbert Adams, of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, in special studies in the department of historical theology.

THE REFLIN CASE.

Ten of the Twelve Jurors Required Have Been Secured.

The Reflin perjury case drags. Yesterday was the second day. Today will be the third—and the end?

The history of the connection of Reflin and McCord with the celebrated Eddieman murder trial is well known all over the state.

Reflin will be tried on the same charge so soon as a jury can be secured, which seems to be a pretty difficult task.

Yesterday morning, at the noon recess, all the jurors except one had been secured, but in the afternoon one of the jurors was taken sick and was replaced by another from two vacancies.

In vain panel after panel was questioned, but not a juror could be found who was eligible.

On the last man of the last panel, the state made its final effort. Dr. H. H. Clark ordered the bailiffs in the most peremptory manner, to see that every man on the lists should be present, and personally summoned to appear before him, so that he might be brought in when the work of securing jurors will be resumed.

The defense has three strikes yet, and then the first panel will be tried again.

Jurors to fill the box, provided they have not been secured before the defense exhausts its strikes.

Meanwhile, the unfortunate who are on the jury will be allowed to go about as close confinement as the prisoner in his cell.

THESE REGISTRATION LISTS.

Judge Calhoun's Side of the Question Settled.

"How about that kid about the number of registered voters' lists having been inadequate?" Jim Calhoun, ordinary of Fulton county, was asked yesterday.

"Well, the supply was adequate, and so far as I have been able to learn, the managers of the various polling places were perfectly satisfied. It was simply a measure of economy. I went next to each polling place, and there was no need of sending out more than one voter registration card, so that it would be ample sufficient. By doing this I saved the county $60, I think."

"Yes, we are much too extravagant. I see no need of raising them any higher. There are three different sections this fall and winter, at each of which there will be a different number of registered voters, so you see how easily it would be to uselessly throw away several hundred dollars which are no possible requirement for so doing, and no reason for it. The commissioners tendered me a vote of thanks for the saving of that much money for the county, at their session Wednesday."

That tired feeling now so often heard of, is entirely overcome by Hood's Sarsaparilla which gives mental and bodily strength.

WHO WILL WIN?

About the Contest.

Some time ago the progressive and energetic firm of Eiseman Bros. offered three handsome prizes for the three best compositions on the subject of the importance of personal hygiene. First, a gold watch, second, the choice of their $15 suits, and third, the choice of their $10 suits.

No boy older than sixteen years is eligible for the competition, and the entries must consist of not less than 500 and more than 600 words. The manuscripts must be sent to "Courage," care Eiseman Bros., on or before October 28th.

Mr. Eiseman says yesterday: "I believe by the 20th of October we will have received 5,000 compositions, if they keep on coming like they have been doing. We have received them from all over the country, and from the surrounding country as there seems to be in this contest. Almost every letter portrays the boy. We have received some of the funniest compositions, and the judges will be hard put to it to peruse these letters one would be led to believe that boys were the most original specimens of humanity."

That is the stirring up these boys is a great one. A great many compositions are coming in, yet the competition for these prizes has not been overthrown.
